

OPPENHEIMER

Business & Law: We Get What Matters®

Oppenheimer's Emerging Business Team

The business landscape has changed dramatically over the past 40 years, but the entrepreneurial spirit of emerging and established companies—intelligent, innovative and intrepid—remains the same. Oppenheimer's Emerging Business Team has been with you every step of the way, protecting and developing your inspired ideas that fuel breakthroughs, drive growth and improve the lives of others.

Amy Culbert practices in the areas of securities, M&A and general corporate law. She also represents public and privately-held companies with their corporate legal needs.

Bruce Machmeier focuses his practice on venture capital and public company financings, M&A, securities and corporate law. He represents emerging clients in a variety of matters, including entity formations, equity incentives and joint ventures.

D. William Kaufman represents venture capital entities and companies in early and late stage venture capital financings, advises lenders and borrowers in commercial banking transactions, and assists buyers and sellers in M&A transactions.

Thomas Marek specializes in corporate finance, securities law compliance, acquisitions and divestitures, licensing, executive employment agreements and corporate compliance.

Patrice Kloss co-chairs our Medical Technology Group. She represents venture capital entities and companies in early and late stage venture capital financings, assists buyers and sellers in M&A transactions and represents lenders and borrowers in commercial banking transactions.

Bill McDonald focuses his practice in the areas of securities, M&A, corporate governance, executive compensation and general corporate law.

Thomas Letscher serves as Oppenheimer's Firm Chair. He represents emerging businesses and public and privately-held companies in a variety of financing, intellectual property, acquisition, securities and general corporate matters.

Barbara Wrigley co-chairs our Medical Technology Group. She advises clients on a full range of patent and technology matters, including patent prosecution, infringement and validity, patent portfolio management, risk analysis & technology licensing, and strategic alliances.

